Conference Overview

The winds of change are fast and furious. While emerging powers and new alliances are shifting the center of gravity of global politico-economic system, technology is shaking the status quo across all industries. Enduring the blitz of these disruptions is a challenge for organizations and governments alike. At individual level, professionals are equally facing the heat of this onslaught.

To sustain performance, to deliver value, it's inevitable for governments and corporates to continuously reflect, review and converge their models with evolving trends. Professionals also need to unlearn, adapt and upskill to live upto new realities.

Join CFO conference 2018 and listen to eminent speakers dilating on the macro-economic shifts demanding economic re-prioritization and organizational transformation. As senior corporate leaders share their experiences, reflect on your mental models and explore the mindset, skillset and toolset required to lead into the future.
